DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 21-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. In claim 21, the amended recitation adding the phrase polysilicon/metal 1 dielectric (PMD) is not found in the specification. In addition, while this phrase may be familiar in the semiconductor art, it does not appear to be applicable to the structure described in claim 21. For example, the phrase itself defines a dielectric layer formed between a polysilicon layer and an upper metal layer. However, there is no corresponding polysilicon layer described in the instant claims, and applicant's dielectric layer would not appear to be clearly described by this terminology.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 21-25 are further rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. As stated above, there is no polysilicon layer described in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 2815

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-3, 5 and 21-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Oda, of record, for the reasons given in the previous actions, hereby incorporated by reference. While applicant's remarks have been carefully considered, they are not deemed persuasive. Oda shows, for example, in Fig. 5, a structure which also makes use of a porous dielectric layer (10), as claimed, where this porous dielectric is disposed inward of a contact layer, such as layer (18), and where the porous layer is also, at the same time, disposed outward of the semiconductor device.

Likewise, the structure shown by Oda would also appear to meet the structure of claims 21-25, in so far as they are understood.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 4 and 6-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Oda, and further in view of Tseng, both of record, for the reasons given in the previous actions, hereby incorporated by reference. Oda also teaches the use of a doped porous dielectric layer as described at col. 4, l. 21-25.
